Who would think that a meteor brings life to a city?

A city that loves order. They are the gardeners who make sure that a stray branch doesn't hang over the pavement, that the flowers don't bloom, that the grass is the same height, and that not a single insect lives. And their lives have been completely changed by a meteor falling right in the middle of their garden. A book that upsets the system from Gözde Başkent. When you read the book, you will love meteorites.
